"I am particularly proud of Bob Lovering and the team he has built in telesales, which over the past few quarters has grown from startup to achieve record bookings of more than $3.3 million in smaller agencies in the first quarter of 2013," said Jeff Kukowski, Chief Marketing Officer of TASER International. "The telesales group was formed to offer a higher level of customer engagement for the smaller agencies which collectively make up the largest segment of law enforcement in North America. This is a very positive response from these customers to this new team dedicated to providing the best 'TASER Experience' to all of our customers -- regardless of agency size. Bob's team is a great example of our increased focus on operational excellence and customer engagement, bringing enhanced service to our customers while increasing the consistency and predictability of our overall business," concluded Kukowski.
