"We are excited to receive our new Axon body cameras," says San Leandro Police Chief Jeff Tudor. "The new technology in the Axon Body 3 camera will allow our officers to better utilize this critical tool and improve our service to the community."

"We couldn't be more proud of the first connected camera for public safety – the industry's best quality of evidence and the addition of real-time features will make officers and communities safer than ever," says Axon CEO and founder, Rick Smith. "We're grateful to all of our partners from law enforcement, union and civil rights groups, and technology providers who helped make this the game-changing device it is."

Order details for these agencies include:

- Oxnard Police Department, CA: 200 Axon Body 3 cameras
- San Leandro Police Department, CA: 110 Axon Body 3 cameras on the Officer Safety Plan 7+
- Tracy Police Department, CA: 99 Axon Body 3 cameras on the Officer Safety Plan 7+

New features include real-time functionality such as alerts, live maps and live streaming. Upcoming features for this camera include real-time critical evidence offloading from the field, "Find my officer" locator functionality, a mobile experience and more. Axon Body 3 is available to purchase now for agencies in the US. To learn more visit www.axon.com/body3.
