SEATTLE, July 23, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Axon (Nasdaq: AAXN), the global leader in connected public safety technologies, today announced the addition of Regina Holloway as Axon's VP of Community Impact effective July 13, 2020.

"I have a deeply rooted belief that empowering the voices of a concerned public can lead to positive change," says Ms. Holloway. "I was drawn to Axon not only for its focus on centering racial equity, diversity and inclusion and ensuring a fair and effective justice system, but also for the recognition by leadership that this goal cannot be achieved without weigh-in from communities. I'm honored to lead Axon's community impact initiatives and look forward to being a part of the great societal change Axon is working toward."

"We are very excited to welcome Ms. Holloway with her deep experience and passion for the representation of communities," says Axon Chief Revenue Officer, Josh Isner. "Axon has always known that our products serve not only law enforcement, but also the diverse communities those officers are sworn to protect. Ms. Holloway's key mission will be to build a transparent, trusting and productive relationship with the communities we serve."

Ms. Holloway joins Axon from NYU's Policing Project where she served as a Senior Program Manager and helped to implement the Neighborhood Policing Initiative in the City of Chicago. Prior to that, she served as a Supervising Investigator with the Civilian Officer of Police Accountability in Chicago. During her tenure as a Clinical Fellow at Suffolk University Law School, Ms. Holloway developed housing discrimination investigations that led to the publication of a study in Yale Law School's Journal of Law and Feminism. Ms. Holloway is a Senior Atlantic Fellow for Racial Equity through a partnership between Columbia University and the Nelson Mandela Foundation. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and African-American Studies from Temple University and earned her Doctor of Jurisprudence from Suffolk University Law School.
