

Axon Announces Microsoft, Skydio and Verizon as Top Sponsors for 2021 Accelerate Conference Leading Technology Conference for Public Safety, Axon Accelerate, is now in its 6th year

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., Sept. 24, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Axon (Nasdaq: AXON), the global leader in connected public safety technologies, today announced Microsoft as the title sponsor of Axon Accelerate, the public safety technology conference. Skydio, Verizon, FirstNet Built with AT&T, Cellebrite, Cradlepoint, and Panasonic TOUGHBOOK are among other confirmed sponsors for the annual conference taking place in Phoenix, on November 1 to 3. To learn more and register, visit www.axon.com/accelerate.

Axon Accelerate is a global thought leadership symposium for public safety professionals. Attendees will have the opportunity to experience Axon's latest hardware and software technology solutions and hear from industry leaders who will cover a wide range of public safety topics that can help benefit their agencies and communities.

"Accelerate is one of the year's most exciting events for Axon and our customers. It allows us to engage with public safety officials to help them get the most out of our technology, while helping us better understand their needs as they serve their communities," says Rick Smith, Axon CEO and Founder. "We work hard to make sure public safety has the most innovative training and technology solutions as they continue to serve and protect."

The conference will also include a certification day allowing registrants to become qualified experts on Axon products and tools such as body-worn cameras, redaction, reporting, case sharing and hardware troubleshooting.

For more information on becoming a sponsor for next year, reach out to tosponsorships@axon.com.
